

Donor Privacy Policy

CLIMB Wyoming (CLIMB) maintains the highest level of respect for the privacy of its donors. In furtherance of our commitment to honor your rights, we have developed this Donor Privacy Policy to guide our volunteers and staff regarding how they may and may not use your personal information. This policy may be updated from time to time.

What information we collect

CLIMB maintains full records related to all entries posted to the accounting system and donor database including those related to gifts from donors.

How we use that information

CLIMB will never publish, sell, trade, rent or share:

- Names (unless released for publication),
- E-mail or mail addresses, or
- Telephone numbers of our donors.

CLIMB will use contact information (e-mail, telephone number and address) of donors for these purposes only:

- To thank donors for their gifts
- To distribute receipts for gifts
- To inform donors about local program activities, fundraising and other CLIMB activities
- For internal analysis and record keeping
- To report in accordance with IRS regulations for Tax Exempt Organizations

We allow donors the option to have their name publicly associated with their donation unless the donor explicitly chooses to remain anonymous when donating. In all other cases it is customary for staff and volunteers to assume all donations are to be publicly announced unless the donor explicitly indicates otherwise. Comments received from donors may be used in promotional materials only after permission to do so is received.

Financial information

All access to donor financial information is strictly limited to professional staff and volunteers who need to have access to those data. No such data are given to any person, organization or group who does not need to access those data.

CLIMB adheres to strict payment processing guidelines to protect donors' privacy and financial security.
