The Bonds of Friendship

“Our CDL/Warehouse class was a beautiful representation of the bonds between participants which can occur during CLIMB’s unique program model. These bonds often create a lasting network of support for our graduates as they transition from CLIMB into their new careers.

Even when it was difficult, the women pulled together to support one another as they worked toward their goals. Whether it was a shout of encouragement over the noise of an engine, a shoulder to lean on, or an extra set of hands to care for kids, our moms head into job placement not only with new skills, but with friendships which will continue for many throughout their lives.”
