The Sweetwater Area’s recent Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) program is helping fill a high demand for healthcare workers in our community during the pandemic. The participants were provided with laptops, help accessing internet service, and IT support so that they could participate in the training and connect with each other. The virtual classroom created unique learning opportunities, including live instruction with trainers in remote locations, and both individual and group counseling. Graduation was also held online (right) with several kids coming on screen at the end.
